Re: Request for Certificate of Correction

Consideration has been given your request for the issuance of a certificate of correction for the above-identified patent.

Respecting the alleged error noted in your request, it is not clear where the changes are to be made in the claims, since none of the lines mentioned included the phrase "said bearing device" in its entirety. The change in wording affects the scope and meaning of the claims.

In view of the foregoing, your request is hereby denied.
